Mayor Jean Quan's Statement
Concerning Shootings This Morning

This is a terrible tragedy. On behalf of the City we offer our deepest condolences to the victims and their families. We have spent most of the day reaching out to the community to offer support and want the students and family members to know that counseling services will be available through our Measure Y service providers.

We commend the Oakland Police, Fire and other agencies that quickly responded to the shootings at OIKOS University this morning and who apprehended the suspect.

There are still a lot of questions remaining. The Police are undertaking a thorough investigation and we will provide more information at a press briefing this evening at 6 pm at the Police Administration Buildings.
