

To Whom It May Concern

I Mohammed Riyaz Khan was a witness to the event that took place at the Bal Theatre on October 12th 2010 in San Leandro CA. I was working on the Bal Theatre neon signs, when two unidentified men wearing plain cloths jeans and t-shirts came into the bal theatre and called out my co-workers name and said they wanted to speak with him. I never heard them or saw them identify themselves but my co-worker immediately went to speak with the two men as I continued to work on the sign.

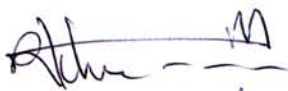

A short time later I witnessed and heard Mr. Dillman ask the two men to identify themselves, as they were exiting the main front doors, one of the men said he was the police, I then heard Mr Dillman asked both men to show him their picture identification, badges, badge numbers and business cards as there have been people impersonating under cover police officers and robbing people right in front of the theatre, one of the men flashed his wallet open and closed very quickly " like on a tv show or movie" I then heard and witnessed Mr. Dillman state that he did not see anything and asked both men to please provide him with their identification. Both men refused and continued walking out the front doors, Mr. Dillman said to them as they exited the front doors that he was calling the San Leandro Police, I heard the unidentified men say to Mr. Dillman go ahead and call the police as they fully exited the building.

Mr. Dillman said to his wife call the police. I then witness Mr. Dillman take a picture of the two unidentified men's car and license plate. The car seemed to me a normal non police vehicle with normal license plates. I also saw Mr. Dillman take a picture of the driver getting into the car and I witnessed Mr. Dillman take a picture of the passenger who was already in the car with the door closed when Mr. Dillman took his picture. I then witnessed the passenger jump out of the car and attack Mr. Dillman and slammed him to the ground as both men began to knee and punch Mr. Dillman while he was on the ground they continued to knee him even after Mr. Dillman was in handcuffs, Mr. Dillman yelled to me to please call 911 as they continued to knee him no less then six more times while he was in handcuffs on the floor. Mr. Dillman did nothing to provoke the attack. Mr. Dillman never fought back at anytime, the San Leandro police arrived as the two unidentified men picked Mr. Dillman off the ground and Mr. Dillman called out to the San Leandro Police to please help him but they did not. The Two men never identified themselves and they never said to Mr. Dillman at anytime that he was under arrest or being detained.

I declare under penalty of perjury under the laws of the state of California that the foregoing is true and correct. Dated: 10.20.2010
