Nope. But I thought they had been around for years. Dad bought me one a long time ago. Of course, you have to be standing right next to the perpetrator to touch them with the device. I don't know about the one Ted called about.

Not seeing the news is a good thing. Yesterday, Ted O'berg called wanting an interview on the new personal taser. I left him a message that you were not available and did not hear back from him.

For some reason [REDACTED] computer won't connect to the internet here. I haven't seen a newspaper or tv news since last Thursday. That's a good thing.

It is still proper for me to ask. There may be a day that something could be going on that you would want me here.

You do not have to ask. Just tell me what you plan to do. You have to know by now that I'm not going to tell you "no" about anything you want.

I woke up about 30 minutes ago worried about you. I almost called. Hope you are well. Funny sensation. Not really funny, odd. Wish you were with me.

hope you/ya'll have done something fun today.

I have not done much. Ran errands this morning, been tired since I got up, so I took a nap. Still have not done much and I think I may just go back to bed and hide my head.
