

Motorola Statement
June 24, 2008

While Motorola does not comment on personnel matters or pending litigation, we have extensive policies, procedures and training in place to protect the security and confidentiality of the Company's intellectual property. We continue to reinforce our existing policies and procedures while focusing on Motorola's continued commitment to building on our already strong intellectual property portfolio.

The Company will continue to cooperate fully with the appropriate authorities.

Contact: Motorola
Corporate Communications
847.576.5200