STATUS:05/16/08: email to Cindy from Terry - Thanks for the information, and this is just an aside, but wouldn't applying for a veterinary program be the way for her to get "direct veterinary and animal experience"? At a time we have a critical shortage of people wanting to work with large animals, why are we turning people away who want to do so? Not everyone wanting to be a veterinarian grows up on a farm – but it seems we are saying, only people who grow up on a farm need apply for a veterinary education – and there are less and less of those types every year. Again, those were all just thoughts, appreciate your help.

STATUS:05/28/08: email to Terry from Mary - [REDACTED] needs to go to www.usp.uillinois.edu Then on left side of screen click on Residency Information. Next click on "Petition for Determination of Residency Status" He must fill out the information and there is a section there where his father will answer questions e.g. Voter? Drivers license # Illinois Tax payer? Etc.This form must be turned in by September if he is starting in the fall which he is. It can be done electronically.I talked to Gayle Layman, Universities-Wide Student Programs. 3332030 Gayle also informed me that there should be no problem since his father is a resident and can prove it, with Illinois residency documents.The status of parent relationship to each other makes no difference. Only the status of parent (father). [REDACTED] father will have to help fill out this petition to give information I have stats on [REDACTED] if you need them. STATUS:04/18/08: email to Kathleen from Laurie Kramer - Applications for the new Parkland Pathways to Illinois program have just been released and I have attached a pdf of the application. Ms. [REDACTED] is very welcome to apply to this program, and if she is accepted and follows the program requirements, will lead her to enrollment at the UIUC as a junior. I believe that Dan Cullen and Abel Montoya in Admissions and Records are coordinating the admission process for this brand new program.

STATUS:02/29/08: email to Mary from Abel - Mary, We do take into account, in a positive manner, if someone has been a veteran. They are usually more mature and more focused coming out of the military, but we need to also make a decision based on academics. Daniel's test scores were quite low [REDACTED] and his class ranking was quite low (bottom [REDACTED]). He would be in better shape if he had some college coursework completed with some solid grades.
