COMPLAINT AT LAW AND JURY DEMAND

NOW COMES the Plaintiff, MARIA MARIANI, by and through her attorney, J. CRAIG SMITH of KOSKOFF KOSKOFF & BIEDER, P.C. and PETER J. FLOWERS of MEYERS & FLOWERS, LLC, complaining against Defendants CONAGRA FOODS, INC. and CONAGRA BRANDS, INC. and alleges:

INTRODUCTION

1. This products liability lawsuit seeks compensatory damages on behalf of plaintiff MARIA MARIANI, who was burned and severely injured by a can of Wellsley Farms Cooking Spray, which Defendants, CONAGRA FOODS, INC. and CONAGRA BRANDS, INC. (collectively, the “DEFENDANTS”), designed, manufactured, marketed, sold and distributed.

COMMON ALLEGATIONS

2. At all times relevant to this complaint, MARIA MARIANI was a resident of Staten Island, New York.

3. At all times relevant to this complaint, Defendant CONAGRA FOODS, INC. was a Delaware corporation with its principal place of business in Chicago, Illinois. It is currently a registered trade name for Defendant Conagra Brands, Inc.

4. At all times relevant to this complaint, Defendant CONAGRA BRANDS, INC. was a Delaware corporation with its principal place of business in Chicago, Illinois. It was formerly known as ConAgra Foods, Inc.

5. Defendant CONAGRA BRANDS, INC. is the successor in interest to CONAGRA FOODS, INC.

6. At all times relevant to the allegations in this complaint, DEFENDANTS were and are in the business of manufacturing, advertising and promoting the sale of various food brands, including Wellsley Farms Cooking Spray.

7. DEFENDANTS designed, manufactured, filled, and/or sold the canister of Wellsley Farms Cooking Spray that exploded in the kitchen of MARIA MARIANI.

8. The canister of Wellsley Farms Cooking Spray at issue was designed, manufactured and filled in Illinois.

9. The canister of Wellsley Farms Cooking Spray at issue was designed and manufactured with u-shaped vents on the domed bottom of the canister that were designed to open when the can buckled or when the bottom of the canister became convex instead of concave.

10. The canister of Wellsley Farms Cooking Spray at issue was designed and manufactured so that when the can buckled and the u-shaped vents on the bottom of the canister opened, the internal contents of the canister would escape through the vents and the pressure inside the can would be reduced.

11. The contents of the canister of Wellsley Farms Cooking Spray at issue included not only cooking oil, but also propellants, including extremely flammable materials such as propane and butane.

12. DEFENDANTS designed, manufactured, filled, and/or sold Wellsley Farms Cooking Spray for use in consumer kitchens.

13. The Wellsley Farms Cooking Spray reached MARIA MARIANI without substantial change in its condition and was stored and used in a reasonably foreseeable manner on or about April 5, 2019.

14. On or about April 5, 2019, MARIA MARIANI was boiling water in the kitchen at her residence in Staten Island, New York.

15. At said time and place, MARIA MARIANI was utilizing the stove, when a canister of Wellsley Farms Cooking Spray placed on the adjacent counter suddenly and without warning began spraying its extremely flammable contents through the u-shaped vents on the bottom of the can and exploded into flames, causing burns to MARIA MARIANI and igniting a fire in the kitchen.

COUNT I – STRICT PRODUCTS LIABILITY

16. MARIA MARIANI incorporates by reference paragraphs 1 through 15 of the Complaint at Law as if fully set forth herein.

17. CONAGRA FOODS, INC. and CONAGRA BRANDS, INC. have a duty to place into the stream of commerce, manufacture, distribute, market, promote, and sell Wellsley Farms Cooking Spray and products that are not defective, unsafe and unreasonably dangerous when put to the use for which it was designed, manufactured, distributed, marketed, and sold.

18. CONAGRA FOODS, INC. and CONAGRA BRANDS, INC. did in fact design, manufacture, fill, market, promote, supply, distribute and/or sell Wellsley Farms Cooking Spray to consumers, including MARIA MARIANI.

19. CONAGRA FOODS, INC. and CONAGRA BRANDS, INC. expected the Wellsley Farms Cooking Spray it was designing, manufacturing, filling, marketing, promoting, supplying, distributing and selling to reach, and it did in fact reach, consumers in the states of Illinois and New York, including MARIA MARIANI, without substantial change in the condition.

20. At the time the Wellsley Farms Cooking Spray left the possession of CONAGRA FOODS, INC. and CONAGRA BRANDS, INC. and the time the Wellsley Farms Cooking Spray entered the stream of commerce, the Wellsley Farms Cooking Spray was in a defective, unsafe and unreasonably dangerous condition. These defects include but are not limited to the following:

- a. The Wellsley Farms Cooking Spray was capable of venting at temperatures lower than DEFENDANTS' specifications and/or performance standards allow;
- b. The nature and magnitude of the risk of the can venting and causing a fire was high in light of the intended and reasonably foreseeable uses of the products in and around heat sources in the kitchen, including stoves/grills;
- c. The likelihood that product users were aware of this risk was low, given that the product was designed and advertised to be used around stoves/grills, and had no adequate warnings about possible dangers of doing so;
- d. The likelihood of the Wellsley Farms Cooking Spray causing and/or contributing to a fire due to venting was high in light of the intended and reasonably foreseeable use of the Wellsley Farms Cooking Spray product around stoves/grills and other heating sources;
- e. The flammability of the Wellsley Farms Cooking Spray product's ingredients and the Wellsley Farms Cooking Spray product's risk of venting were more dangerous than a reasonably prudent consumer would expect when used in the intended and reasonably foreseeable manner of cooking;
- f. At the time it left the control of the manufacturer, in the state of technical and scientific knowledge, reasonable and safer alternative designs were available with respect to the flammability of the ingredients, and alternative can designs would have prevented the venting event and the injuries in this case without substantially impairing the usefulness of the intended purposes of the product;

- g. Failed to provide warnings or instructions concerning the risk of venting, risk of fire, and risk of burn injuries, in light of the likelihood that some users of the Wellsley Farms Cooking Spray product would use the product in the kitchen and in close proximity to stoves/grills;
- h. Failed to provide adequate warnings concerning the risk of venting, risk of fire, and risk of burn injuries;
- i. Failed to provide adequate warnings concerning the types of propellants in the Wellsley Farms Cooking Spray product including isobutane and propane;
- j. Failed to provide warnings or instructions concerning the risk of venting, risk of fire, and risk of burn injuries, in light of incident reports that some people had suffered burn injuries due to venting during ordinary use of the Wellsley Farms Cooking Spray product; and
- k. Were otherwise defective, unsafe and unreasonably dangerous.

21. At all times relevant to this complaint, MARIA MARIANI used the Wellsley Farms Cooking Spray for its intended purpose, i.e. cooking spray, and stored it appropriately. There was no other reasonable cause of the Wellsley Farms Cooking Spray's failure to properly perform other than the Wellsley Farms Cooking Spray product being defective.

22. MARIA MARIANI could not have discovered any defect in the Wellsley Farms Cooking Spray through the exercise of due care.

23. CONAGRA FOODS, INC. and CONAGRA BRANDS, INC. as designer, manufacturer, filler, marketer, promoter, supplier, distributor and seller of food products are held to the level of knowledge of an expert in their field.

24. MARIA MARIANI did not have substantially the same knowledge regarding the dangers of the Wellsley Farms Cooking Spray as the designer, manufacturer, filler, marketer, promoter, supplier, distributor and seller: CONAGRA FOODS, INC. and CONAGRA BRANDS, INC.

25. As a direct and proximate cause of one or more of the foregoing wrongful acts or omissions by CONAGRA FOODS, INC. and CONAGRA BRANDS, INC., the Wellsley Farms Cooking Spray canister exploded and MARIA MARIANI was caused to suffer and sustain injuries of a permanent nature including, but not limited to, burns, scarring, and disfigurement. MARIA MARIANI also suffered great pain and anguish in both mind and body. MARIA MARIANI was hindered and prevented from her usual and customary duties and affairs. MARIA MARIANI will be in the future caused to endure great pain, suffering and disability and has expended and become liable for substantial sums of medical care and services while endeavoring to become cured and healed of said injuries and will continue to expend and become liable for additional costs for future medical treatment. Furthermore, MARIA MARIANI was unable to and will in the future be unable to attend to her normal affairs and duties for an indefinite period of time.

WHEREFORE, MARIA MARIANI prays for judgment against Defendants, CONAGRA FOODS, INC. and CONAGRA BRANDS, INC., in a sum in excess of jurisdictional limits of this Court, together with interests and costs of this action.

COUNT II – NEGLIGENCE

- e. Failed to provide warnings or instructions concerning the risk of venting, risk of fire, and risk of burn injuries, in light of the likelihood that some users of the Wellsley Farms Cooking Spray product would use the product in the kitchen and in close proximity to stoves/grills;

- g. Failed to provide adequate warnings concerning the types of propellants in the Wellsley Farms Cooking Spray product including isobutane and propane;

30. CONAGRA FOODS, INC. and CONAGRA BRANDS, INC. knew or reasonably should have known of the danger associated with the manner and circumstances of MARIA MARIANI's foreseeable use of the Wellsley Farms Cooking Spray, which danger would not be obvious to the general public.

31. MARIA MARIANI used the WELLSLEY FARMS Cooking Spray for its intended purpose, i.e. cooking spray, and stored it appropriately, and there was no other reasonable cause of the Wellsley Farms Cooking Spray's failure to properly perform other than the Wellsley Farms Cooking Spray product being defective.

32. MARIA MARIANI could not have discovered any defect in the Wellsley Farms Cooking Spray through the exercise of due care.

33. CONAGRA FOODS, INC. and CONAGRA BRANDS, INC. as designers, manufacturers, testers, fillers, marketers, promoters, suppliers, distributors and sellers of food products are held to the level of knowledge of an expert in their field.
